Chapter 39: “Business Communication Demonstrates Professionalism”

Laura completed her BS in Clinical Dietetics at the University of Connecticut and her MS in Nutrition Communication at Boston University. Although she held a variety of positions in clinical dietetics, she always enjoyed writing and public speaking whenever possible. An adjunct nutrition instructor position led her to seek full time employment educating future dietitians at Keiser University. There, she was able to combine her professional interests of nutrition and communication to serve future RDNs.

What led you to contribute your time and expertise to writing Communicating Nutrition?

As an educator who has a keen interest in writing, it became evident that future RDNs needed a source to help them communicate their nutrition knowledge to those who need it. Our dietetics students lacked a text that could provide practical tips for communicating with the public, their peers, and other professionals.
